

Case Study

nova | eventis – Halle-Leipzig, Germany

Shopping Center Specifies Bradley's Frequency® Lavatory System

Challenge

There are many reasons for using products from the Bradley Corporation. That is why one of the largest shopping and activity centers of Germany, nova | eventis, chose Bradley to equip its restroom facilities. The shopping center is in the heart of Germany – in the metropolitan region of Halle-Leipzig. With its unique combination of shopping, leisure and activities, it draws up to 20,000 visitors a day. For this reason, the center placed particularly high demands on Bradley. Two restroom facilities for 76,000 square meters are there to satisfy every customer's need.

Solution

One shopping center, two public restroom facilities, thousands of satisfied customers – that is nova | eventis' bottom line after four years of experience with Bradley. Individual planning paved the way to success. Two customized restroom facilities consist each of one lavatory for women, one for men and one for families. The design matches the architecture of the center. Bradley's product quality, which knows no compromise, paid off. The high quality of material and workmanship and the easy-care materials exceeded all expectations. From early on in the development of the restroom facilities, great importance was placed on high-performance intelligent systems.

Bradley product installed at this location are the Frequency Lavatory System manufactured from Terreon solid surface material and cast as a complete unit. This unit complies with GGT/ADA guidelines. Also installed are Terreon LD-3060 Lav Decks and Mills® toilet partitions in plastic laminate.

Collecting bonus points

In surveys, center visitors gave very positive evaluations to the lavatories. Bonus points: The functional reliability is self-evident despite the high visitor frequency. There are no follow-up costs. Even after four years of use, signs of wear-and-tear are nowhere to be found. This is a longevity that crowns unmistakable timeless design.

A Frequency multi-height lavatory system makes a beautiful statement and makes handwashing easy for all users.

Thousands of satisfied customers – that is nova | eventis' bottom line after four years of experience with Bradley.

